

Welcome to React Health!

Regular replacement of PAP supplies is crucial to achieving optimal comfort and success of therapy.

- » Worn Seals on masks and cushions can result in less effective therapy and discomfort due to leaks
- » Filters that are not replaced according to schedule can cause the machine to run harder, shortening the life of your device
- » Tubing can crack resulting in less therapy being delivered while you sleep

When Should PAP Components be replaced?

Below are the Medicare guidelines for PAP resupply*. Most commercial insurances follow the Medicare guidelines but React Health suggests always contacting your insurance company to ensure coverage of PAP resupply parts.
